Coach Farr pointed out that the possible key to the win was shutting down their top scorer, Terry Thomas. Farr placed tough defensive player, Troy Berg on Thomas, and kept him to 14 points. Thomas has been scoring over 20 points a game.

Emery took a six point lead early in the first period of action, which set the Wasps back on their heels. But, after a quick time-out, the Wasps were more settled in, and it was apparent that they were there to win, or stay close.

Coach Farr said that the goal of the team was keep close throughout the entire game. His philosophy being that if they could keep it close, they could win.

Derek Farr and David Eaton quickly brought the Wasps back into the game, as they scored 12 points in the first period together. From there on it Troy Casper was fouled. He stepped up to the line, and promptly fired in two points.

With Emery controlling the ball, the Wasps were patient in their zone defense. Thomas took a clear shot from outside, and Wasatch took the rebound. With .45 seconds, Wasatch was patient to hold onto the ball, and wait for the final shot.

With six seconds showing, Troy Casper drove to the basket as he did earlier to tie the game, players is double figures. Casper had 19 points, Eaton had 18 points, Farr had 17 points and Wayne Cummings had 10 points.

High scoring player for the Spartans was David Albrecht who scored 18 points, 10 of those in the first half.

Wasatch plays Union at home this week, on Friday night, Jan. 18th. Union was defeated by Emery by 18 points, and has a record of 0-2 on the region action.
